The Hon'able Minister opening the proceedings explained in short the aims and objects of the organisation of the District Rural Development Board. The Hon.Minister informed the members that the main object of the organisation of the R.D.Board was to bring about better coordination between the Government and the non-official workers. The Government had prepared several rural development schemes under their P.W.R.programme and these schemes would be executed through the various Government Departments. If these schemes were to be worked out satisfactorily to the entire benefit of the rural community it was quite necessary that there should be close coordination between the Official agency executing these schemes and the rural population for whose benefit these scheme were meant. It was with this aim in view that these Boards were constituted. The Hon'ble Minister continuing said that there were at present one Provincial R.D.Board for the Whole of the Province a D.R.D. for each of the District, and a Taluka Board for each taluka. All these bodies were constituted by nomination, but the ultimate desire of Government, was to form these bodies by election. The Village Panchayat Committees and the Cooperative Societies in a taluka would elect the taluka Board and the taluka board the District Board and the District Board the Provincial Board.

The R.D.Boards, the Hon'ble Minister continued, would function primarily as an advisory body in all matters connected with rural development. The Board should maintain close touch with the rural development activities in the district and should advise Government in working a them out successfully. The Board could also formulate their own proposals and Schemes for the District and submit them to Government for consideration. In addition to this advisory fuention, the Board was entrusted with certain executive duties also; such as working out the well Subsidy Scheme, distribution of iron and steel, distribution of oil cake manure, etc.

In the circumstances explained by the Dir. of Agri. in his letter No. S. 50-L/41507, dated 19-12-46, sanction may be accorded to a weekly visit by the Medical officer in charge Gokak Dispensary, Gokak, to the Govt. Farm at Arbhavi for rendering medical aid to the members of the Farm at an annual cost of Rs 240 per annum. It may be pointed out that in the case of Dharwar Farm the Subordinate Medical officer, Dharwar, has been granted a spl. pay of Rs15 p. m. and conveyance allowance of Rs5 p. m. for treatment of, and medical advice to, the staff at the farm. On the analogy of these orders there appears no objection to grant a spl. pay of Rs10 p. m. and conveyance of Rs10 p. m. to the Medical Officer, Gokak.
